Griffmen Humble Tigers In the First of Series

Wierd Exhibition Staged at National Park, Which Results in 11 to 4 Score—Detroit's Errors Prove Costly. Johnson in the Box.

By WILLIAM FEET.

Probably the craziest exhibition of the national pastime staged here this season was on tap before a good crowd yesterday when the Griffmen took Jennings' Tigers into camp, 11 to 4.

Tiger errors, and there were nine of them, figured in almost every Washington tally. The Griffmen being able to toss in hits when needed. In only two innings could Detroit keep Washington from pushing over runs.

Coveleski was buried under a landslide of hits and failed to survive more than two innings. Bernie Boland, the next Tiger slobber, worried along until the seventh. When Boehler relieved him, both Boland and Boehler were hit hard.

Walter Johnson was on the firing line for the Nationals, and was soundly thrumped in the first inning when two runs breezed across. Walter then tightened up, but with such a commanding lead as his pals slipped him, did not care to extend himself.

Eliminate the Detroit errors and the game would have been a close one. Eddie Foster had a regular celebration, coming across with four safe blows out of five times up.

Joe Judge Injured.

Joe Judge, the new first baseman, crashed into the grandstand going after a fly ball from Oscar Stange's bat in the second inning and sprained his right ankle, Gandil replacing him.

Singles by Bush and Vitt, Cobb's long fly and Veach's drive to left field gave Detroit two runs for a starter, but this lead did not embolden the Griffmen, for in the final half of the opener the Nationals lammed over five juicy markers, the team batting around before the side could be retired.

Judge opened by drawing a walk to first when one of Coveleski's shoots hit him in the shoulder. Foster and Clyde Milan singled, Jamieson's hunt was poorly handled by Coveleski. H. Milan singled to right. Shanks forced Jamieson, but Rippy Williams came across with a double to right and a figure five adorned the score board opposite the word Washington.

Errors by Bush and Coveleski, a single by Foster, base on balls to Horace Milan and Shanks' sacrifice fly added two more home tallies in the second. There was one out and Foster on third when Coveleski was relieved by Boland in this chapter. Boland being greeted by Shanks who

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Some first inning, oh fans! Gums we didn't twist Tiger's tail. Now for the others.

Washington batted around in the first frame, and didn't get a runner on well until the fifth.

Horace Milan put himself in right with the face ball he caught one on the nose for a blow with the face full in the opener.

Hugh Jennings was there with his Eh. Yeh, but he could not come up to Tom Sawyer's bluff.

Judge made a grand effort to get Vitt's foul fly, but he fell short of the mark by inches, getting the ball on the tick.

Going to the stands for Stange's foul fly, Joe Judge stepped in the gutter and his ankle was twisted. It was a grand try, but some player had to have said to him to back up as he was too close to the concrete.

There was there with his one-hand stuff again, Mr. Judge wide to first and "Chick" took his glove. That's all.

McBride made a neat catch on Vitt's Texas League, going out in left corner and taking the ball over his shoulder with his back turned.

Walter Johnson and Gandil figured in a nice double play in the ninth inning when Rippy Williams, Young singled and Walter, who was too close to Gandil for a double play.

Some hitting by both teams, but the showing of the Washington youngsters is what pleased all.

Double-header today and here's hoping we take both.

The Rex A. C. and the Empire A. C., both of the northeast, will clash Sunday at 2 o'clock on the diamond at Fifth and Virginia avenue northeast. These clubs met earlier in the season, and the Rex boys were victorious, but the Empire line is out for revenge. Chester Lyons will be the star for Manager Helge's team, while either Hartley or Blundin will work for the Independent champions.

clubbed to Crawford, scoring Foster as mentioned in the foregoing.

Horace Milan's walk, a steal and Shanks' double put over another run in the fourth, while in the fifth McBride tripled to left and crossed the plate on Gandil's single to right.

With Boehler in the box when the seventh opened, Williams got a life when Young who had replaced Bush at short booted a grounder. Rippy could Detroit keep Washington from pushing over runs.

Foster's single, another error by Young and Horace Milan's safe poke gave Washington its eleventh tally in the eighth inning.

Johnson was reached for five hits during the two remaining innings and two Tiger tallies resulted, but the big fellow was taking things easy and had no reason to worry. Score: R. H. E. LOWLY BROWNS HALT PACE-SETTING SOX

St. Louis Beats Boston by 8 to 4 Count—White Sox Trim Mackmen in Double Bill.

Boston, Sept. 24.—The lowly Browns came to town today and broke the winning streak of the Red Sox, who had accumulated seven straight. The score was 8 to 4. All four Boston runs were scored in the ninth when Cobb batted around, scoring seven runs off Vean Gregg. In this inning Walker drove out a homer with Pratt on base. Score: R. H. E. Sox Defeat Macks Two.

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—The Athletics ran true to form and dropped two more games today, this time to the White Sox, 7 to 5 and 12 to 5. Both games were loosely played, the Mackmen making nine hits in the afternoon. They made ten hits in the first game and eleven in the second, but their batting was useless in the face of their fielding and the work of their pitchers. Scores: First game: R. H. E. Philadelphia..... 4 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Chicago..... 5 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Batteries—Clegg and Mayer; Richardson and Myers. Umpires—Moss, O'Laughlin and McBride. Second game: R. H. E. Garrett Shows Class.

New York, Sept. 24.—Garrett, a recruit pitcher, held the Yankees to four hits today, Cleveland taking the first game of the series, 4 to 1. Alexander's homer into the bleachers saved the locals from a shut-out. Vanece, another recruit, pitched for the Yanks and was wild. He gave six bases on balls and struck out seven men in eight innings. Scores: R. H. E. New York..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Cleveland..... 4 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Batteries—Garrett and O'Neill; Vanece, Shawker and Alexander. Umpires—Moss, Connolly and Chell.

UNTZ BREWER REPORTS TO ST. ALBAN'S SQUAD

Football stock at St. Alban was given another boost yesterday afternoon when Brooke "Untz" Brewer reported to Coach Green for his initial workout.

While it has been rumored for the past few weeks that Brewer was to sever his connection with the Tennyson-Town Institution in favor of Brown Prep, it has never originated from authentic sources, and the reappearance of the little speed marvel will change the complexion of Coach Green's squad to no small degree.

Brewer stated last night that he never intended leaving St. Alban as this is his last year, and he has been looking forward to his final session with pleasant anticipation of a banner year in all branches of sport.

While eight veteran men back to serve as a nucleus, Green is optimistic over the outlook for a successful campaign, and if past performances of the Episcopians can be taken as a criterion, it is very reasonable to predict that the Purple and White will give a good account of itself.

Among the old men who are now working daily are Houser, Castle, O. Kelly, M. Kelly, Brewer, Stubbs, Murns, and Trappier.

Red Sox Get 20,000 Applications.

Boston, Sept. 24.—Officials of the Boston Red Sox team of the American League are being flooded with applications for seats at the prospective world's series baseball games in this city. It was stated at club headquarters yesterday that more than 20,000 applications already have been received.

Mack Gets New Catcher.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 24.—Unknown to his thousands of admirers in this city, Connie Mack held a conference with Michael Murphy, the star catcher of the Minersville Baseball Club. As the result of the conference Murphy left for Philadelphia, with Mack and has been assured a try-out.

Another Steal for Cobb To Equal Milan's Mark

Georgia Peach to Date Has Purloined Eighty-seven Sacks. Judge Not Badly Injured—Double-header Today.

When Ty Cobb swiped second base in the sixth inning yesterday, he tacked up his eighty-seventh steal of the season, according to unofficial figures put out by George Moreland, the statistician.

In an effort to make it eighty-eight stolen bases, Cobb attempted to sneak down to third base in this same inning, but was turned back, Williams to Foster.

During the 1912 season Clyde Milan, of the Nationals, set a new league record for steals with eighty-eight to his credit, and this year Cobb will undoubtedly pass Milan's mark by a wide margin, in fact, he may do so today.

It was after Johnson had been up in front all season because Cobb has been in every game, and has played probably the best ball of his career.

Galles and Dumont or Harper will do the Boston Red Sox, but it is so remote that even Manager Jennings has conceded the Beaneaters the flag in the Ban Johnson circuit.

There will be a double-header staged at National Park this afternoon, the first game starting promptly at 1:45 o'clock. It was after Johnson had pitched the fourth ball that Williams turned back

Cobb, so Veach technically drew a walk, although he never attempted to amble to first base.

When Joe Judge bumped into the grand stand during the second inning trying to pull down Stange's foul fly he tripped over the curbing and twisted his right ankle. Judge had to be carried off the field, and it was feared that a bone had been broken, but a careful examination later showed only a sprain. Judge will probably be back in the game again Monday or Tuesday.

A series between the Braves and the Tigers, pennant contenders, respectively, the National and American Leagues. In the event that neither becomes a participant in the world series, was the subject of negotiations in Boston on Thursday between the managements of these teams. It is proposed that the Braves' field be used on the days when the Red Sox are playing in Philadelphia. Should the world series be decided in straight games the proposed exhibition series will stop as soon as the big trophy is won.

And many believe that the batteries for the first game of the big series will be Alexander and Kilmer against Wood and Cady. Well, it looks pretty good, anyway.

Last season the Naps dropped 102 games. There is no doubt that the Athletics will make a worse record this year.

The Red Sox management has announced that more than 20,000 applications for seats for world series games have been received. WILLIAM FEET.

LOCAL GRID SEASON WILL OPEN TODAY

Baltimore Polytechnic and Maryland Aggies Play at College Park. Both Teams Ready.

The local football season will be ushered in this afternoon when the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute and Maryland Agricultural College mix things at College Park.

Both teams have been working out for the last week, and while no definite line-ups have been picked, a fairly good line on the ability of the men has been gotten by the respective coaches.

Dutch Mellon, of Polytechnic, has been driving his men to the limit, and the Baltimore players have been going at a fast pace for the last few days at Garrison Country Club.
